

art, light and matter

an elemental alchemy

My new collection:

The merging of Art, Light and Matter.

'A fusion of art and light, displaying the fluid and creative relationship between art and various materials through surface design.'

visual texture

left - desert

right - sunburst

Visual texture is that final layer in a space that brings warmth and depth. Both these lights are printed on perspex and mounted in an aluminum frame.

tell a story

Various designs printed on perspex and mounted on aluminum. This specific collection of art pieces makes up a unique story. You can select art from my website to create your own story.

- cosmic rush

connection & intimacy

The finishing touches we bring to a space is usually to create atmosphere and connection. This design works perfectly over a table, in a hotel lobby or restaurant. It creates a feeling of intimacy in spaces that need something to pull all the separate interior elements together.

- green lava

standing still

Soft light with natural, handcrafted wooden legs. A subtle statement piece.

- rocket

where is god now?

An intricately framed artwork that tells the explosive story of the dualism of our times - the loss of belief, which is counterweighed by a surge of human beings' search for meaning.

- where is god now?
